About

Songwriter and lead vocalist, Phoebe White leads Feeb & the Queen. Whose 'The Queen'? Well, the music of course beautifully performed by members of White's large musical network. Handpicked curators of sounds, Feeb and the Queen's instrumentalists add their unique talents to the songs.

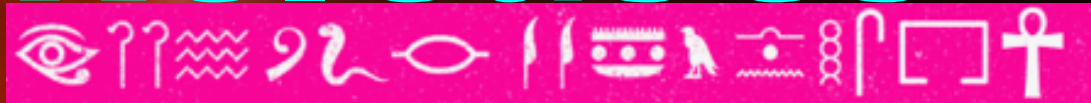

In whatever line up, White's eclectic repertoire and versatile vocals delight every audience. Musical stories told through rock, folk and soul always threaded together by blues gospel vocal delivery of soulful melodies and insightful lyrics, supported by deep grooves.

People ask, 'who is 'The Queen'? Well, it's the music of course - the collective energy of bringing musicians and listeners together in song. We all know that warm feeling right?

White's wonderfully woven lyrics... manifested into what became a true emblem of story telling through music. This insatiable genre mishmash oozing out of a high energy performance makes Feeb and The Queen as captivating as they are meticulous.... Phoebe White is the raspy powerhouse lead with a band who match her onstage genuineness which promises nothing but a great show. A definite must see.
